National Seminar On BUSINESS PRACTICES
IN THE AGE OF DISRUPTION, INNOVATION AND SUSTAINABILITY

(Date: 3rd September, 2021)

GAUHATI UNIVERSITY A NAAC A-GRADE INSTITUTION

Organized by Department of Business Administration
GAUHATI UNIVERSITY

INNOVATION has disrupted established business practices since last few years and expected to create more in the near future; leading many organizations across the world to face hard competition and challenges. DISRUPTIVE thinking has led to path-breaking innovations and produced creative ideas in management thinking and leadership; the impacts have been profound, improving our lives in all sorts of ways.

Since SUSTAINABILITY is a means for surviving in the age of disruption, organizations both large and small have been forced to change business processes /practices to realize the benefits from these innovations and transformations. Besides coping with new business practices, organizations need to deal with issues like resource scarcity, climate change, shifting demography and lifestyles. A large number of studies pertaining to innovative and sustainability practices of large business houses are available in public domain, however the practices adopted by small organizations hardly get attention. Understanding of innovative business practices of small &medium enterprises in nook and corner of India to withstand disruptions emerging in the changing business scenario is also of importance in the present-day context.

Keeping this in the background, we want to request academics, managers, professionals, entrepreneurs and research scholars to come forward and submit papers/ case studies in any relevant area listed below. We believe that interactions and disseminations of research findings may help decision makers in effective policy formulations and implementations both at private and government levels.

SEMINAR OBJECTIVES :

- To provide a platform for academics, research scholars, professionals for intellectual discourse and for presentation of their ideas, research results on changing practices in the key management areas.
- To deliberate on challenges/problems faced by large, small & medium organizations on strategies adopted/required to

SUB-THEMES :

We are cordially inviting academics, researchers and practitioners to submit original work in the form of articles / cases pertaining to any of the following sub themes. However, this list is indicative only and authors may also submit their research on topics which are relevant to the theme and goal of the seminar.

Global Handwashing Day observed

GUWAHATI, Oct 15: Global Handwashing Day was celebrated by Gauhati University NSS Cell through a webinar today in association with the Swachh Bharat Mission-Gramin, Government of Assam & the UNICEF, a press release received here stated.

Welcoming the guests and participants, Dr Ranjan Kr Kakati, Director, Students' Welfare, GU and Programme Coordinator, NSS Cell said that hand washing has always been an important part of our personal hygiene to prevent diseases and has become very important to prevent the spread of Covid-19 infection.

Dr Kakati urged everyone to follow the international protocol for washing hands for a minimum of 20 seconds and said that a minimum of 15 different types of diseases can be prevented by proper hand washing.

Anurag Goel, Principal Secretary to the Government of Assam, Health & Family Welfare Department inaugurated the webinar and said that hand washing has always been an important part of our daily life and its importance has greatly increased during the corona pandemic. Goel also said that hand washing and use of masks are the most important tools for preventing spread of Covid-19 and they also prevent people from getting infected with common diseases like diarrhoea, cholera, cough and cold etc.

Sironjib Saikia, Chief Engineer (PHE), Sanitation, Assam also spoke about the importance of hand washing to prevent spread of communicable diseases. Attending as invited speaker of the webinar Barmali Ghosh, State Wash Monitoring Specialist, SBM-G, Assam said that hand washing with soap protects health and saves lives from many diseases. She laid importance on women hygiene and sanitation linked with hand washing.

It may be mentioned that the GU NSS Cell and SBM-G & UNICEF launched ODF plus and hand washing campaign in four aspirational districts of Goalpara, Barpeta, Udalguri and Darrang. Dr Rituparna Borah, NSS PO, GU Campus NSS unit gave the vote of thanks. Around 100 participants comprising NSS programme officers and volunteers from all over the country attended the webinar.

Gauhati University NSS Cell celebrates 'World Toilet Day'

GUWAHATI, Nov 20: The NSS Cell of Gauhati University celebrated the 'World Toilet Day' on November 19 November. As a part of programme, a webinar was organized by GU NSS Cell.

Delivering his welcome address on the occasion, Dr Ranjan Kr Kakati, Director, Students' Welfare & Programme Coordinator, NSS Cell, G.U. welcomed all the dignitaries and participants. He said, "We should make the people aware on the use of sanitary toilets to make the country ODF (open defecation free). We must maintain cleanliness to lead a healthy life free from diseases that might be caused due to open defecation."

Dr Kakati further said that the volunteers under GU NSS Cell are working with the 'Swachh Bharat Mission- Gramin, Assam, and the UNICEF in the four aspirational districts of Goalpara, Barpeta, Darrang and Udalguri to make them ODF." He also lauded the volunteers for their selfless service.

Inaugurating the webinar, Partha Pegu, Joint Director of Sports & Youth Welfare Department, Government of Assam, said that main aim of the programme is to make the country open defecation free as launched by Prime Minister of India throughout the country. He also lauded the GU NSS Cell for their efforts in this regard.

Attending the programme as the 'Invited Speaker', WASH Monitoring Specialist, Mission Directorate, SBM-G, Barnali Ghosh said that many Indians are still defecating in the open. She pointed out, "This practice is polluting the soil and water bodies and causing various diseases like diarrhoea, cholera etc." Ghosh also shared her knowledge with the volunteers to sensitise the people and make them aware to make sanitary toilets.

Tritikhya Borkotoky, volunteer, GU Campus NSS unit, delivered the vote of thanks.

About 100 participants comprising NSS volunteers, Programme Officers, WASH Monitoring officials and members of Gauhati University fraternity attended the webinar.
