CRITERION 7

Assessment term: 2018-2023

Sub criterion 7.1

Institutional Values and Social Responsibility

7.1.8. Institutional efforts/initiatives in providing an inclusive environment i.e. tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional, linguistic, communal, socio-economic and other diversities, Gauhati University

Gauhati University is a proponent of equal opportunity, ensuring no discrimination based on religion, caste, gender, or colour. The university actively promotes inclusivity through departments like Women's Studies and Disability Studies, organizing sensitization programs, lectures, and workshops to foster an inclusive atmosphere. Moreover, courses in several Humanities and Social Sciences departments incorporate the spirit of inclusivity in their respective syllabi.

The Gauhati University Institute of North East India Studies focuses on understanding the diversity and connections among North East Indian communities, while the University's Centre for South East Asian Studies seeks to establish connections with neighboring countries. The university's harmonious and tolerant environment attracts students and researchers from countries like Uganda and other African countries, Iran, Nigeria, and Thailand.

Gauhati University is dedicated to enforcing its anti-ragging policy rigorously, ensuring that all students are treated fairly and protected from discrimination or bullying based on cultural, regional, linguistic, communal, socioeconomic, gender, or other diversities.

Various departments take individual initiatives to raise ethical awareness concerning the environment and the human-nonhuman interface within the university community. For instance, many literature departments incorporate ideas associated with environmental ethics in addressing the relationships among literature, culture and nature through readings of literary texts. Lectures and training on animal handling and ethics for research students are also provided.
